La Sella (Pedreguer)

High above the La Sella valley, the villa's unconventional architecture overlooks the wide plain with the Marriott Hotel and one of the most beautiful golf courses on the coast. The view is immense and is captured to great effect by exquisitely styled glass fronts. The villa is a fascinating blend of light-flooded transparency and elegant power, of noble designer castle and modern classicism with a touch of Olympus, which is skilfully and successfully accentuated by the visual expanse to the front and the impressive rock massif at the back with the crystal blue pool. The striking floor plan, devoid of any playfulness, emphasises classic modernity with clear, manageable spaces. The architectural style and quality are exceptional in the truest sense of the word, while the furnishings and design are absolutely exquisite. It goes without saying that the technology leaves absolutely nothing to be desired and fulfils the demands of modern comfort to the highest degree. The imposing, almost austere beauty of this property exudes an irresistible allure that not only a Zeus would succumb to in this perfection.
